“LOYAL LEWIS.”

ROLL OF HONOUR

(1914 AND AFTER).

“How sleep the Brave who sink to rest
By all their Country's wishes blest!
When Spring, with dewy fingers cold,
Returns to deck their hallow'd mould,
She there shall dress a sweeter sod
Than Fancy's feet have ever trod.

“By fairy hands their knell is rung,
By forms unseen their dirge is sung:
There Honour comes, a pilgrim gray,
To bless the turf that wraps their clay,
And Freedom shall awhile repair
To dwell a weeping hermit there!”

PREFACE.

THIS terrible war which burst on an astonished world a year ago, and which, after a course of unexampled violence and destructiveness, is apparently far from its fateful crisis, is of supreme and undying interest to the Island of Lewis. In no part of His Majesty's Dominions, home or oversea, has a rural community of under 30,000 souls made a finer response in manhood and efficiency to the call to Naval and Military service in defence of the Empire and its Allies, and all that the Empire champions—freedom for the man and the State all over the habitable world. This Hebridean contribution to the Forces by land and sea is remarkable, alike in numbers and variety of service, and this record, with the subjoined statistics, collected and arranged with great care by Mr William Grant, the local representative of the "Highland News" at Stornoway, deserves, and will receive, handsome acceptance from Lewis men and women and their friends everywhere.

Many who are unacquainted with the interesting story of the Island and its more recent development are excusably surprised at the large quota of Lewis soldiers and sailors at present in the service of the Crown. For some enlightenment on the past and on the present, it may be stated that the Island has had a very substantial military tradition for centuries, since it, with other Highland districts, emerged from the "dark ages" of internecine tumult and barbarity. The episode of the Fife Adventurers early in the 17th century probably marked the critical stage in the transition to organised military practice and enlistment. At the Battle of Auldearn in 1645 a Lewis regiment was practically annihilated. Only three escaped, and among the killed was the Chamberlain of the Lews (Donald Ban, brother of the Laird of Tulloch). But the Island was still turbulent, for Cromwell had a garrison in Stornoway, and in 1654 an unsuccessful siege of the strong Castle of Stornoway is recorded. In the '15 twelve Lewis officers were nominated in Inverness, and at Sheriffmuir the Islanders, under Seaforth, formed part of the second line. Lewis gave serious concern to the authorities for a time thereafter, and a regular Government force was got ready to operate against its defiant clansmen. In the '45, again, a Lewis Company with its local officers took the field. Passing down the years, we find that in 1793 and 1794 Francis, Lord Seaforth, raised two battalions, in the first of which three hundred Lewismen figured. The second battalion took the distinctive and far-famed title of the "Ross-shire Buffs." In 1804 another battalion was raised for the "Buffs," and the Island contributed a large proportion. In a word, the renowned 78th Regiment had a fertile recruiting area in Lewis. Indeed, such was the drain on the population by recruiting that the Rev. Colin Mackenzie, Parish Minister of Stornoway, writing for the "Statistical Account" in 1795, says:—"By reason of the multitudes levied for the Army and Navy, the great number of subtenants, and the many hands wanted for the fishing boats, labourers and farm servants are become very scarce and difficult to be found."

Since the Napoleonic struggle the military tradition has been continued and extended, and Lewis, in the Navy, the Army, and Militia, has long been represented from every village in the Island. The fighting record is magnificent. The Royal Naval Reserve was started in Stornoway in 1874, and for a long time was drilled annually at the Battery Station there—in its day the largest single station in the Kingdom. The physique and efficiency of the Reservemen were surpassed by none, according to official reports. In later years actual service aboard a man-of-war has been insisted on, and the local Training Station was discontinued. This splendid R.N.R. contingent, numbering about 2000, promptly answered the mobilisation summons of the Admiralty on the memorable

ROLL OF HONOUR.

2nd August last year. It must, however, be kept in mind that the connection of Lewis with the regular Navy has been very close for fully a century, though the recruitment was not large, and that in this war up to date several Lewismen of the regular Navy, apart from R.N.R. seamen, have conspicuously distinguished themselves. The people will cherish the memories of the Heligoland Bight, the Falkland Islands, the North Sea Battle, and, with special regard, the brilliant exploit of the "Carmania." The old Artillery Volunteers (1st Ross-shire), Stornoway, was supplanted some years ago by the new organisation, the Ross Mountain Battery (T.F.), and the Stornoway Company thereof is now valorously fighting in the dreary and blood-soaked slopes of the Dardanelles. With the Company are serving 41 of the Secondary pupils of the Nicolson Institute, actually on the working roll of the school when the war broke out, and former pupils also in large numbers have contributed to the splendid war record of this distinguished school. Nothing redounds more to the high credit of the Island's endeavour in this world conflict than the voluntary enlistment of young men of Lewis birth or extraction, both at home (though furth of the Island), and in the Colonies, the States, the Argentine and elsewhere in foreign parts. From Canada alone some 250 Lewis lads are now in the trenches in Flanders. And the Island will remember with just pride that all through the progress of the war there has been a modest, but steady, local recruiting for all branches of the Forces—Regular, R.N.R., and Territorial.

Alas! that with all this military enterprise and pageantry the toll of life and limb by land and sea has been distressingly severe. Already the death casualties alone are well into the third hundred, and every week now little groups of men, maimed or hopelessly war-worn, are finding their way to the family hearths in all parts of the Island. Lewis is sorely stricken, and the patriotic devotion and the resignation of the inhabitants will, there is every reason to fear, have to face greater tribulation before Peace resumes its reign. Many pages will have to be added to this Roll of Honour. To all of us the abiding consolation remains that those who never come back have laid down their lives in one of the greatest causes in the history of mankind. Let us at home have an unflinching faith in certainty of a triumphant issue to this stupendous struggle, and do our part, however humble, with a deep sense of personal obligation. There is a direct and very telling appropriateness at this moment in the words of a real poet:—

"Say not, the struggle naught availeth,
The labour and the wounds are vain,
The enemy faints not, nor faileth,
And as things have been they remain.

If hopes were dupes, fears may be liars;
It may be, in yon smoke concealed,
Your comrades chase e'en now the fliers,
And, but for you, possess the field.

For while the tired waves, vainly breaking,
Seem here no painful inch to gain,
Far back, through creeks and inlets making,
Comes silent, flooding in, the main.

And not by eastern windows only,
When daylight comes, comes in the light;
In front the sun climbs slow, how slowly!
But westward, look, the land is bright!"

—Clough.

With this beautiful and inspiring vision of ultimate victory the Roll may fitly open.

As a last word let the hope be expressed that the sons and daughters of the Island at home and abroad will unite in erecting a worthy and permanent local memorial and cenotaph to their countrymen who have suffered and died for their sakes in a noble cause.

J. L. R.

Stornoway, August, 1915.

EDITORIAL NOTE.

IN placing this volume before the public I venture to hope that it will commend itself to Lewis folk at home and abroad as a record not altogether unworthy of the magnificent part the Island is playing in the struggle now shaking the world.

The production of such a Roll could not possibly be the unaided work of one man, and my first duty is to acknowledge here the ungrudging assistance received from friends in all parts of the Island. The original lists of names for the various districts were supplied by the school teachers, every one of whom, without exception, responded heartily to my appeal for their co-operation. They also revised the lists as rearranged, and in many instances corrected the proofs for their respective districts as the work was passing through the Press. Other friends, too, have assisted by supplying information with regard to casualties and in collecting photographs. To all these helpers sincere thanks is tendered. One prominent and patriotic Lewisman has been especially helpful—Dr J. L. Robertson, H.M. Senior Chief Inspector of Schools. Dr Robertson has throughout taken a keen and practical interest in the work of compilation, and from the appended initials he will be recognised as the writer of the Preface.

Freedom from error is not claimed for this Roll, but an earnest endeavour has been put forth to make the information given complete and correct, and to this end no effort has been spared. Mistakes here and there are almost inevitable in the circumstances, and of course for these I accept no responsibility. In view of a probable re-issue at the end of the war, readers are invited to notify any errors they may observe.

A few words as to the plan and scope of the Roll may be appropriate and useful.

It will be observed that a separate list is given for each of the thirty-six School Areas, and these are arranged in Parishes, following as far as practicable their geographical order. The Parish of Stornoway, for instance, commences at Aird and ends at North Tolsta; it is followed by the Parish of Barvas, commencing at Lionel and ending at Shawbost; Uig and Lochs are similarly treated.

With the exception of the names of Commissioned Officers, the lists are compiled in alphabetical order, by Service units. Notes are appended in cases where men have been wounded or gas poisoned, interned or made prisoners. An asterisk (*) prefixed to a name denotes a man who has given his life in the struggle; a dagger (†) indicates one who is missing. In another part of the book will be found brief biographical notes of the men who have fallen. To facilitate reference, it has been found convenient to arrange these in chronological order. In every instance the date on which a man was drowned, killed, or died of wounds, is given in the district lists, and these dates form an index to the biographical notes.

As an appendix there is included a series of statistical tables which no doubt will have interest for some. One set shows how the men from each district are distributed according to units of service; in another set each district's quota is arranged according to clan names. Incidentally these latter reveal some interesting facts with regard to the distribution of the clans throughout the Island. The Macleods, it will be seen, easily lead for numbers in all four Parishes, and the name figures among the men serving from every school district except those of Achmore and Aridhbhruaich. They head the list for every school area in the Parish of Stornoway, except North Tolsta, where they take second place to the Macivers, and are almost equalled by the Murrays. In the Ness district the Macleods have to yield pride of place to the Morrisons. At Airidhantuim the Macdonalds easily come first, followed by the Morrisons, Smiths, and Martins. At Barvas and at Shawbost the Macleods are in an overwhelming majority, while at Bragar they are closely followed by the Smiths and Mackays. Passing to the Parish of Uig, it will be seen that the Buchanans are the most numerous at Islivig, Mackays at Valtos, Macdonalds at Bernera and at Crowlist, Macivers and Macleans at Breasclet. The strength of the Macleods at Carloway and Duncarloway, however, places them at the head of the list for the Parish. In Lochs Parish the Mackenzies are the most numerous at Grimshader, Planasker and Knockiandue, and the Mackays at Achmore. At Fidigary the Macleods are nearly three times as numerous as the Mackenzies, who come next in order. At Lurebost, too, they are in a substantial majority.

The lists throughout the book will be found headed by the names of the townships comprised in the respective school areas. The population as at last Census is also given, together with the number of men serving, and the percentage of the same to the population. It should be explained, however, that the Census of 1911 was taken on a Sunday when Communion services were being held at Garrabost and at West Uig (including Bernera). There was also a sectional Communion at Ness. In this way the populations credited to the districts named are above their normal and those of neighbouring districts below. The percentages, therefore, can only be taken as giving a general idea of how the men of the various localities have rallied to the Flag; they do not form an accurate basis for comparison between districts.

CAMPBELL, MALCOLM, Pte. ... 6 Battery Park.

Captain and Adjutant JOHN N. MACRAE.
1st Battalion Seaforth Highlanders

ROSE FROM THE RANKS.

A Distinguished Lewisman.

LIEUTENANT and Quartermaster (now Captain and Adjutant) John N. Macrae, 1st Battalion Seaforth Highlanders, was mentioned in despatches by Sir John French after the Battle of Neuve Chapelle in March, 1915, "for valuable, gallant and distinguished services" in the field. Captain Macrae has had a brilliant career in the Army. In 1893, at the age of 16, he enlisted in the county regiment—the Seaforths. He served with the 2nd Battalion as Sergeant during the South African War (1899 to 1902), receiving the King's and Queen's Medals, with seven clasps. He was present at the Battles of Magersfontein and Paardeberg, as well as numerous other engagements throughout the war, and was mentioned in Lord Roberts' despatches for gallantry at Paardeberg. On 8th July, 1910, he was promoted Sergeant-Major (Warrant Officer), and on 25th February, 1914, was promoted to a commission as Lieutenant and Quartermaster to the 1st Battalion in India, joining that Battalion on 2nd May, 1914. In September he left India for active service in France, and, as already stated, had the distinction of being again mentioned in despatches. He vacated his appointment as Quartermaster, and was appointed Captain and Adjutant of the Battalion on 18th August, 1915. Captain Macrae, who is a son of Mr Donald Macrae, Brana-huie, Stornoway, is one of four brothers who have served in the Army, and his own two sons are now serving as boys in their father's regiment.

Captain THOMAS NICOLSON,
Commanding Stornoway Section, Ross Mountain Battery.

ROSS MOUNTAIN BATTERY.

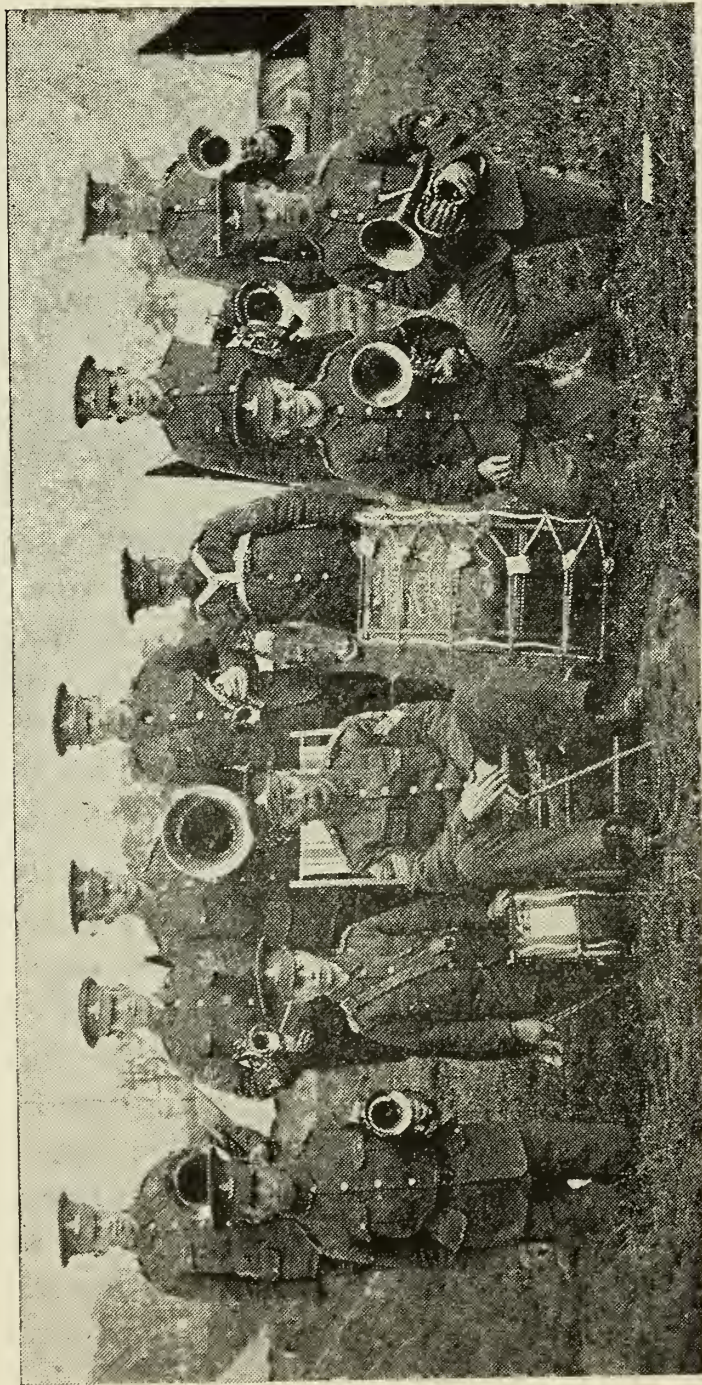

INTEREST in the attempt to force the Dardanelles was immeasurably heightened for the community of Stornoway when it became known that the Ross Mountain Battery was detailed for service in the land operations there.

After completing their training at Bedford, the Battery (of which the Stornoway Section forms the left half) embarked at Avonmouth on 21st March, 1915, for the Mediterranean. Towards the end of March the transports reached Alexandria, where the troops were disembarked. On 8th April they were re-embarked, and on the 10th sailed for the rendezvous at Mudros Bay, Island of Lemnos. Here eleven days were spent on board ship, while the final arrangements were being made for the ever-memorable landing on Gallipoli, which was effected on the 25th of April.

While waiting at Lemnos the desperate nature of the enterprise in which they were to take part was emphasised in a personal note from Major-General Aylmer Hunter-Weston, C.B., D.S.O., to each man of the 29th Division on the occasion of their first going into action together. Reminding the troops that "the eyes of the world are upon us, and your deeds will live in history," he says:—"Our comrades in France and Flanders willingly gave their lives in thousands and tens of thousands for our King and Country, and by their glorious courage and dogged tenacity they defeated the invaders and broke the German offensive. We also must be prepared to suffer hardships, privations, thirst, and heavy losses, by bullets, by shells, by mines, by drowning. But if each man feels, as is true, that on him individually, however small or however great his task, rests the success or failure of the Expedition, and therefore the honour of the Empire and the welfare of his own folk at home, we are certain to win through to a glorious victory."

THE BATTERY BAND.

On the evening of 24th April the great fleet of war vessels and troopships left their anchorage at Mudros, and on the morrow was written one of the bloodiest but most glorious pages in British history. The Ross and Argyll Mountain Batteries, which had the distinction of being the only Territorial artillery selected to serve with the famous 29th Division, had the further honour of being the first artillery of the Expeditionary Force to land and go into action on the Gallipoli Peninsula.

The Battery lads took their baptism of fire under such terrible conditions with a gallantry unsurpassed even by the seasoned troops with whom they co-operated. Reports, too, of the subsequent fighting testify to the coolness and bravery of the men, whether in action at the guns; bringing up ammunition with the ponies, often amidst a hail of bullets; repairing telephone wires under fire; or in going about their duties at the Base Camp, never beyond range of the enemy's guns.

Brigadier-General H. E. Street, Commanding the 8th Army Corps, in a letter to Brigadier-General H. Simpson Baikie, R.A., says:—"The Lieutenant-General wishes you to express to the officers and the non-commissioned officers and men of the Highland Mountain Battery his appreciation of their consistent, gallant, and efficient performance of their duties throughout the operations. The Battery has been almost continuously in action in the advanced trenches under heavy shell and rifle fire, and in spite of heavy casualties they have remained working their guns in a manner which is deserving of the highest praise. This good work was particularly noticeable throughout the engagements of 28th June and 12th July, and the spirit shown by them has been a credit to the Corps, and worthy in every way of the best traditions of the Royal Regiment of Artillery."

THE HONOURS OF WAR.

Corporal DONALD SMITH, 1st Battalion Seaforth Highlanders, son of Mr Donald Smith, Geilir, Bayble, Stornoway, was promoted Sergeant and awarded the D.C.M. for "conspicuous gallantry on 20th December, 1914, at Givenchy, when he made a gallant stand at his traverse in the centre of his trench, which was being enfiladed. He accounted for at least eight of the enemy, and later stopped any further advance by bomb-throwing."

Private DONALD MACLEOD, 2nd Seaforth Highlanders, son of Mr John Macleod, 27 Habost, Ness, was awarded the Distinguished Conduct Medal "for conspicuous gallantry and coolness on 10th March, 1915, at Neuve Chapelle in bombing the enemy in their trenches and driving them out traverse by traverse." Private Macleod, a fine young fellow, very full of life, has been in the Seaforths for about five years. He has also been awarded a Russian decoration—the Cross of the Order of St George (4th Class). Private Macleod is 24 years of age.

Lance-Sergeant WILLIAM MACNEILL, 1st Seaforth Highlanders, son of Mr William Macneill, 1 Carishader, Uig, was awarded the Distinguished Conduct Medal for his "gallantry, energy, and excellent work, especially in bomb-throwing, at Givenchy, on 20th December, 1914." He was also awarded the Russian Cross of the Order of St George (4th Class). Unfortunately, Lance-Sergeant Macneill did not live to enjoy his decoration, being killed in action at Rue-de-Bois, Flanders, on 9th May, 1915. Early in the engagement he was wounded in the shoulder, but declined to retire, saying he would not leave his comrades. Shortly afterwards he was struck in the head by a piece of shrapnel and killed. The last words of this brave Lewisman were a request that his friends might be told that he died doing his duty in defence of King and Country, and that he had done his best. He had been nine years in the Seaforths. A few months after he enlisted he was drafted to India, and remained there till the outbreak of the European War, when he came to France with the Indian Expeditionary Force. In India he saw some fierce fighting on the North-West Frontier, and was noted for his bravery and daring.

Private ALEXANDER THOMSON, 1/4th (Ross Highland) Battalion Seaforth Highlanders (T.F.), son of Mr James Thomson, merchant, Tong, Stornoway, was awarded the D.C.M. "for conspicuous gallantry on March 11th, 1915, when he left his trench under heavy fire and brought a wounded man a distance of 40 yards into cover, under difficult and dangerous circumstances, the enemy being only 200 yards away." In an engagement next day (12th March) Private Thomson was wounded, but after a spell in hospital recovered and rejoined his unit in the firing line. At the outbreak of hostilities he was a teacher under the Glasgow School Board, but early in the war he joined the Army, and was drafted to the Front in October, 1914.

Trooper NEIL MACIVER, of the 16th Light Horse, Canadian Contingent, a native of Coll, Stornoway, was mentioned in despatches by Sir John French for his gallant and distinguished conduct at Festubert. During a fierce engagement his brother John, also a trooper in the same regiment, was wounded in eight places, and Neil succeeded in carrying him into safety. Afterwards, under a galling fire, he left the trench and brought in another wounded man. Major Hawker, of the 16th Light Horse, in a congratulatory letter, wrote:—"From all accounts I have received, you nobly earned the distinction, which is magnified a thousand times when gained amongst so many brave men where brave deeds were being done every second. But yours, my boy, stands out so conspicuously as to merit the honour of being the first man of the Province of Saskatchewan to be mentioned during the war."

Major DAVID MACLEOD, D.S.O.,
8th Gordon Highlanders

“PHARAOH AND THE SERGEANT.”

A Gallant and Devoted Soldier.

MAJOR DAVID MACLEOD, D.S.O., is a son of the late Mr Donald Macleod, Arnol, Barvas. He enlisted in the Seaforth Highlanders before he was quite sixteen years of age. In 1895, volunteering for special service in connection with the organisation of the new Egyptian Army, he went out as one of the small band of Sergeant Instructors (of whom Lewis provided two), immortalised by Kipling in “Pharaoh and the Sergeant.” The task of turning the spiritless Fellaheen into fighting soldiers was at the time deemed hopeless by many, but the British instructors proved themselves “a charm for making riflemen from mud.” With the young army thus created Major Macleod served throughout Lord Kitchener’s re-conquest of the Sudan. He was present at the Battle of Fisket (June, 1896), and served in the Nile Expeditions of 1897 and 1898. He fought in Sir Hector Macdonald’s famous Brigade at the Battles of the Atbara and Omdurman. In admiration of the perfect steadiness and gallant conduct of the 2nd Egyptians (trained by Major Macleod) at Omdurman, Stevens, in “With Kitchener to Khartoum,” described them as “the best-trained and disciplined battalion in the world.” During 1899 Major Macleod served on the White Nile and in Khor-dofan with the forces pursuing the Khalifa. For his services he was mentioned in Lord Kitchener’s despatches, received the Khedive’s medal with six clasps, the Queen’s Sudan medal, the medal for Distinguished Conduct in the Field, and, as a further reward, a commission in the Cameron Highlanders. In the South African War he served continuously for over two years, seeing service in Cape Colony, the Free State, and the Transvaal, where he was wounded and again mentioned in Lord Kitchener's despatches for Distinguished Conduct in the Field, at the same time receiving the Queen's medal with three clasps and the King's medal with two clasps. Towards the end of the war he joined the South African Constabulary, popularly known as Baden Powell's Police. When peace was declared he was made a District Commandant and a Justice of the Peace. After two years with the South African Constabulary he volunteered for active service in Somaliland, and served four years with the King's African Rifles in Central Africa, British East Africa, and Uganda. During that period he took part in the Sotik Punitive Expedition, and served with the Nandi Field Force. He received the African General Service Medal with two clasps, and five years after receiving his commission was specially promoted to the rank of Captain in the Gordon Highlanders in recognition of his varied services in the field. In 1907 he again accepted service in the Sudan, to organise and command the Camel Corps Training School at Khartoum; and he saw service with the Camel Corps on the Blue Nile in 1908. After being stationed with his Battalion (2nd Gordons) for two years in India, he was appointed to the Depot in Aberdeen, and retired early in 1914, after twenty-seven years' service. Later in the year, on war being declared, he volunteered his services, and was appointed to the 8th Gordons, with the rank of Major. He served in the field in France from the beginning of May until 25th September, 1915, when he was seriously wounded at the storming of the Hohenzollern Redoubt. For his "conspicuous gallantry and devotion" in this engagement he was given the Distinguished Service Order. "In the attack on the Hohenzollern Redoubt," the official record states, "although wounded three times, he continued to lead his Company forward till he fell from exhaustion."

FIGHTING MACLEODS.

A Family's Fine Record.

Lieutenant and Quartermaster DONALD MACLEOD, elder son of the late Mr Norman Macleod, Kershader, Lochs, enlisted in the Army Service Corps on 21st March, 1885. He was promoted Warrant Officer in 1899, and to commissioned rank in 1909. Lieut. Macleod was on active service in South Africa during the Boer War, and subsequently served eighteen months there on foreign service.

Captain KENNETH KENNEDY MACLEOD, half-brother of Lieut. Macleod, above, was born in 1873. After leaving the village school he served an apprenticeship as joiner with Mr Archibald Macrae, Stornoway. He joined the 1st Seaforth Highlanders on 6th April, 1892, and was promoted Lance-Corporal before the end of the same year. He was promoted Corporal in 1894; Sergeant, 1897; Colour-Sergeant, 1901; Warrant Officer, 1911; Lieutenant and Quartermaster on 24th August, 1914; and Captain (commanding a Company) on 10th October, 1914. Captain Macleod served in Crete during the disturbance of 1897-98, and afterwards was five years in Egypt. He was through the Sudan Campaign of 1898, and took part in the storming of the Zareba on the Atbara. After a year's service in India he returned home in 1904 and joined the Permanent Staff of the 3rd Seaforth Highlanders, on which he served till the outbreak of war in August, 1914, when he was promoted Lieutenant and Quartermaster to the 7th Seaforths. He commanded B Company of the 7th Seaforths in the attack on the Hohenzollern Redoubt on 25th September, 1915, leading his men with conspicuous gallantry.

Wounded above the left elbow by a bullet which passed through the arm and entered above the left hip (where it is still lodged), he continued to lead his men until struck down by a rifle bullet which passed through his head, entering an inch behind the right eye, and coming out a little lower on the left side. He lay out in the rain for twelve hours before he was accidentally found by two Camerons, who carried him to the dressing station. For his gallantry and devotion to duty on this occasion he was awarded the Military Cross. Very early in his military career he proved himself a master marksman, putting up the highest score on record in his recruit's course. He held the Championship of Egypt and the Mediterranean in 1901, and afterwards won many important competitions in India and at home. He held the Scottish Army Championship in 1912, and was the best shot in the 7th Seaforths at Borden in 1915. He acted as a sniper in France, using the telescopic-sighted rifle with great effect, to the annoyance of the Bosches. His shooting trophies comprise six gold and two silver medals, besides spoons and cups. He was not only considered one of the best shots, but also one of the best instructors in the British Army, although not a great believer in the "pace stick." His decorations are—the British Sudan Medal, with clasp; the Medal for Long Service and Good Conduct, the King George Coronation Medal, and the Military Cross.

Captain NORMAN GEORGE MORISON MACLEOD, son of Lieut. Donald Macleod, above, was born at Stornoway in July, 1891. After a few years in the Education Department of the Civil Service he joined the 1st Gordon Highlanders as a private on 9th September, 1909. On the 9th December, 1912, he was gazetted 2nd Lieutenant to the 2nd South Lancashire Regiment, but resigned his commission on 9th July, 1913, to enter on a commercial career in Canada. On the outbreak of war in August, 1914, he mobilised as Lieutenant with the 90th Winnipeg Rifles, with whom he proceeded to France in February, 1915, and was promoted Captain on 24th April. For his conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty in the fighting of 24th April, 1915, and for carrying important messages out of the trenches in daylight, Captain Macleod was awarded the Military Cross. On the 24th April, when the Germans, under a cloud of poisonous gases, attacked and broke the Allied lines, Captain Macleod with his platoon seized and occupied a piece of trench from which the battalion on their left had been driven. This trench was of the utmost importance, being on the extreme left of the unbroken portion of the British line. As soon as Captain Macleod's platoon had fought their way sufficiently far down the trench to adequately protect the battalion's flank, they erected a barricade between themselves and the Germans, who still occupied a portion of the trench. They held the position tenaciously for eleven hours till definitely ordered to retire.

Major J. S. M. MATHESON
1st Cameron Highlanders (severely wounded),

CAMERONS IN THE JAWS OF DEATH.

Mons, The Marne, The Aisne.

Major JAMES SUTHERLAND MACKAY MATHESON, son of Lieut.-Colonel Duncan Matheson of Achany and the Lews, joined the 1st Cameron Highlanders in 1890. He served through the South African War, for which he was awarded the war medal with five clasps. Leaving Edinburgh Castle with the battalion on the night of 12th August, 1914, he crossed to France with the vanguard of the British Expeditionary Force. He took part in the memorable retreat from Mons, and fought in the victorious advance to the Marne and the Aisne. On 13th September the regiment crossed the Aisne, and on the 14th advanced up an open glaxis, meeting, front and flank, with a murderous fire, which forced them to retire. Ten officers and over 400 men fell. Major (then Lieutenant) Matheson was wounded in three places early in the morning, and when the regiment retired he was left on the field. For three days and nights he lay in heavy rain, and under shrapnel fire, before the ambulance could pick him up, and, as his teeth had set, it was altogether five days before any food or drink passed his lips. He was so weak from exposure and loss of blood that he could not stand the journey to the Base Hospital, and had to be put into the American Ambulance at Paris. Private Tollerton, 1st Cameron Highlanders, was awarded the V.C. for lying beside Major Matheson for those terrible three days and nights, and carrying him out of the enemy's fire. Captain Horne, of the same Company, was wounded in the leg, and a sergeant and two stretcher-bearers remained in charge of him. The Germans, coming on, killed Captain Horne and both stretcher-bearers in cold blood, and took the sergeant prisoner. Major Matheson, owing to the severity of his wounds, was unconscious at the time, and though hammered by the Germans, was taken for dead, thus escaping a like fate. He is still an invalid, but is employed as Staff Major in the District Office, Perth.

THE SUPREME SACRIFICE.

EARLIEST SEA CASUALTIES.

"Arethusa" and "Carmania."

The first Lewis sailor to be wounded in the war was Leading Seaman (now 1st Class Petty Officer) JOHN M. MACLEAN, Stornoway. He was on board H.M.S. "Arethusa" in the very thick of the fight in Heligoland Bight on 28th August, 1914, when four German warships were sunk. He sustained a slight injury to one eye, but after a short stay in hospital rejoined his ship, and took part in the action off Cuxhaven, December 25th, 1914, and the Battle of the North Sea, January 24th, 1915.

DONALD MACLEAY, Royal Naval Reservist, 14 Upper Shader, Barvas, was severely wounded on 14th September, 1914, in the fight in the Southern Seas between H.M.S. "Carmania" and the German armed liner, "Cap Trafalgar," in which the latter was sunk. In that magnificent sea fight Macleay showed conspicuous bravery in carrying shells to the big gun amidst showers of shell from the enemy. He escaped practically unhurt till within a short time of the German being sunk. While carrying his last shell to the gun a shell from the enemy hit it in his arms, throwing it to the deck, and the German shell exploding, tore away his right arm above the elbow, at the same time so seriously damaging his right leg that it had to be amputated on his arrival in England. KENNETH JOHN MACLEOD, R.N.R., 7 Raerinish, Lochs (referred to elsewhere), was killed on board the "Carmania" in the same engagement.

DONALD MACDONALD, Private, 2nd Seaforth Highlanders; son of Mr Angus Macdonald, 13 Habost, Ness; killed in action in Flanders on 22nd October, 1914. Aged 38 years. Private Macdonald left a widow and two children.

JOHN MORRISON, Private, 3rd Gordon Highlanders; son of Mr John Morrison, 12 Port-of-Ness; killed in action at La Basse on 23rd October, 1914. Aged 22 years.

MALCOLM CROCKETT, Private, 1st Gordon Highlanders; son of Mr James Crockett, 9 Bayhead, Stornoway; killed in action in France on 24th October, 1914. Aged 20 years. Private Crockett had been at the front for only three weeks before he was killed.

NOTE.—A number of the foregoing Derby recruits have been called up, and have joined the colours. Owing to the difficulty of obtaining meantime particulars as to the units to which they have been assigned, no account is taken of the Derby section in the statistical tables which follow. Account is, however, taken of 22 additional names for the Knockiandue School District, which came to hand too late for inclusion even in the Supplementary List. This makes the number of men serving from Laxay and Keose, 48, representing 14 per cent. of the total, and 28 per cent. of the male population.

Statistical.

The War has made a heavy toll on the Lews. From its commencement in August, 1914, to the end of January, 1916 (that is to say, the first eighteen months), the Island's loss of manhood on land and sea—exclusive of 27 men who are missing—totals 275. Of these the Parish of Stornoway lost 116; Barvas, 80; Uig, 51; and Lochs, 28. During the first six months of hostilities the Lewis losses numbered 68; in the second six months, 150; and in the third six months, 57. The heaviest month's casualties were in May, 1915, namely, 55. In April, 1915, 31 Lewismen fell, and in December of 1914 there were 22 men killed or drowned.

The following tables show how the losses were distributed among the various school districts:—

Parish of Stornoway.

Aird 14	Sandwick ... 5	Tong 11
Bayble 19	Stornoway ... 26	Back 14
Knock 8	Laxdale ... 9	Tolsta 10

Lurebost ...	5	Cromore ...	1	Lemreway ...	2
Balallan ...	3

Total—28.

Fortunately for the Lews there has been comparatively little sea fighting. The following figures have a suggestive interest :—

Sea Forces.		Land Forces.
No. of Men Serving.	No. of Men Drowned.	No. of Men Serving.	No. of Men Killed.	No. of Men Missing.
2348	53	1950	222	27

It will be seen that while every 8th man among the soldiers has fallen, only 1 in 44 of the sailors has made the supreme sacrifice.

The following table shows how the losses were distributed according to Clan Names :—

Macleod ...	46	Stewart ...	5	MacIennan ...	2

TORRADH SHIR IAIN MOORE.

Thuit an seanlair ainmeil Sir Iain Moore anns a chogadh fhada fhuilteach a bha eadar an duthaich ag ain-ne agus an Fhraing aig toiseach an xixmh linne deug.

Fhuair e bàs aig blàr Chorunna san Spàin anns a bhliadhna 1809.

Anns a bhlàr so bha moran de shaighdearan Gaidhealach 'measg an airmailt Bhreatunnach 'nuair a bha aca ri'n aghaidh a chuir air an Linne Shasunnach chum tearuinnteachd fhaotainn o chabhlach Bhreatuinn a bha tighinn le cobhair is lòn d' an ionnsuidh.

Tha am marbhrann a leanas a dearbhadh an cruaidh-chàs anns an robh ar luchd-duthcha.

Chaidh a thionndadh o'n Bheurla gu Gaidhlig leis an t-Urramach Tormod Macleoid nach maireann.

Cha chualas fonn téise no bròn air a Mhùr,
Mar thog sinn a chorp air ar guailnibh;
Cha do loisgear urchair le saighdear mu'n ùir;
Druma cha chualas a' bualadh.

Thiòdhlaiceadh esan 'an uaigheas na h-oidhch',
Airm chatha a' cladhach na h-ùrach,
A' ghealach gu fann troi' neulaibh a' soills',
Leus soluis 'g ar seòladh gu tùrsach.

Cha robh feum aig an laoch air cist a bhiodh buan,
No ollanachd anairt g' a chuairteach';
Ach luidh e mar ghaisgeach a' gabhail a shuain,
Le thrusgan cogaidh mu-n cuairt air,

B' aithghearr, 's bu tearc an urnuigh chaidh suas,
'Us shil sinn na deoir gu samhach,
Ag amharc air creubh an tréin a thug buaidh,
'Us buairte mu theachd an là maireach.

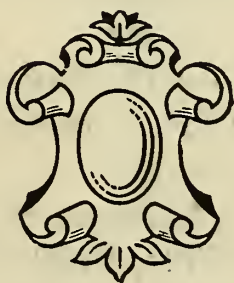

Oir thug sinn fainear a' cladhach na h-uaigh'
'S mar bha sinn gu truagh 'g a dealbhadh,
Gu-n deanadh coigrich a saltairt le fuath,
Agus sinn' air a chuan a seòladh.

Le tàir air a spiorad gu-n deanadh an namh
Air an uaigh so suidhe 'g a chàineadh;
Ach suarach sin dha-san a' gabhail a thàimh
Far an d'rinn a luchd-daimh a chàradh.

Ghairmeadh air falbh sinn o obair a bhròin,
'Us cian mu-n robh crìoch air an torradh,
Chuala sinn toirm a chogaidh teachd oirn,
'Us gaoir nan gunracha mòra.

Ach leig sinn e sìos gu h-aitheasach, ciùin
Mar thuit e an tréin' a mhòrachd,
Gun leac-lighe r'a cheann, gun chàrn os a chionn
Ach sìnte le' ghloir 'na onrachd.

WOLFE.
